

I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now.

- Philippians 1:3-5

Cecelia paused and thought for a few seconds before she answered the question. While giving a brief spiritual interest survey on campus, Natalie asked Cecilia, "Who do you think Jesus is?" After gathering her thoughts, Cecilia looked back at Natalie and said, "I haven't thought about Jesus for over ten years."

Earlier that same week, Laura and Natalie met two girls who are studying medicine. Maria and Mariana grew up going to church and after meeting on campus they became good friends. But up until now, they didn't know any other Christians on their campus existed. Laura and Natalie asked if they might be interested in joining a Bible Study, and Maria and Mariana could hardly contain their excitement.

The next week, Berto met Rodrigo who is studying to be an architect. Eventually, Berto and Rodrigo began talking about Jesus and the Bible. After a nice conversation, they shared contact information and went their separate ways. Later that night, Berto received a text message that said, "I really enjoyed our conversation today! It reminded me of many times in my life that I have felt close to God. I haven't felt that way for a long time. In all reality, I really appreciated getting to meet you."

These are just some of the many conversations that have been happening on college campuses around the city. The last four weeks have been filled with meeting dozens of students. In just one week, our team of 9 met 715 people!

Since then, we've been meeting up with those students who expressed interest in learning more about God. We're hoping to build friendships that are centered on a mutual desire to know God and follow Jesus Christ. Please be praying for our team as we continue to meet students, start friendships and share about the person and work of Christ. We appreciate you so much.

This January, Cruzada in Uruguay will be having its first ever Summer Project. We'll be hosting a retreat to train students in sharing their faith and serving the community. Then, for two weeks, groups of students will go around to communities in Uruguay to practice what they've learned.
